

COVID Economic Recovery Index - Economic Resilience

Economic Resilience describes the degree to which a country's economy is dynamically resilient in the face of the pandemic. It is influenced by factors such as labour market agility understood as the ability to adapt to change, but also quality of governance, overall prosperity levels as well as market size, financial system health and the size of the digital economy, as well as education and skills.

0  100

